

Greg Bowles

Head of Government and Regulatory Affairs

Joby Aviation

Greg brings nearly two decades of aviation regulation and policy experience to Joby Aviation as Head of Government and Regulatory Affairs. He came to Joby from the General Aviation Manufacturers Association (GAMA) where he championed modern regulatory reforms, paving the way for a new form of daily air mobility. Greg held several leadership roles at GAMA including VP of Global Innovation and Policy and Director of European Affairs and Engineering. He is a Fellow of the Royal Aeronautical Society and an accomplished commercial airplane and helicopter pilot.
