

Caitlan Flis serves as Assistant Policy Director for Governor Mike DeWine, where she focuses on federal funding and transportation policy. Prior to serving Ohio's Governor, Caitlan served as Counsel to North Dakota U.S. Senator John Hoeven, where she focused on transportation, appropriations, homeland and border security, labor, judiciary and immigration, as well as Indian Affairs. Caitlan also previously worked in the office of Ohio U.S. Representative Bob Latta. Caitlan received her undergraduate degree in Political Science, East Asian Studies, and Chinese Language from Wittenberg University, her Master of Arts in Chinese Studies from Valparaiso University, and her J.D. from Valparaiso University School of Law.